Welcome to

There's no denying that this past year has been a troubling year for all of us, with a lot of economic uncertainty; but as stressful as it might have been for us, it's been even for so for many others in our community – the elderly, the low-income and the homeless.

The good news for them is they were not alone. CSA is here.

CSA is here to provide financial assistance to people in economic crisis due to a job loss, reduced hours or unforeseen emergency to keep them in their homes, to keep their lights on and to keep their heat on while they get back on their feet.

CSA is here with food to help families make ends meet and to stretch limited incomes.

CSA is here to connect them with other community resources to get them or keep them housed.

CSA is here to make sure they get to their doctor's appointment and to help them monitor and control their chronic health conditions.

CSA is here because of you.

Thank you for opening your heart, giving them a hand and offering them hope. Have a great time.

And remember...Bid high....Bid often!

Tom Myers,
Executive Director

IMPORTANT AUCTION INFORMATION

Carefully read the descriptions of the auction items listed in this booklet and on the table displays. Some items may contain specific conditions, limitations, or other essential information such as expiration dates or smoking restrictions. All Items are sold "as is" and without warranty by Community Services Agency (CSA). All sales are final. No exchanges or refunds are possible.

CSA has made no independent investigation of the value or quality or any of the professional services or tangible items offered as auction items.

The monetary value of the auction items are estimates only and are not warranted for tax purposes or general value. The payment of an auction item in excess of fair market value may provide the purchaser an income tax deduction. Contact your tax advisor for further information and specific questions. If you make a purchase, you will receive a receipt at the end of the evening. On the receipt, the item's fair market value, the amount paid for the item, and the difference (if the amount paid exceeds the fair market value) will be listed.

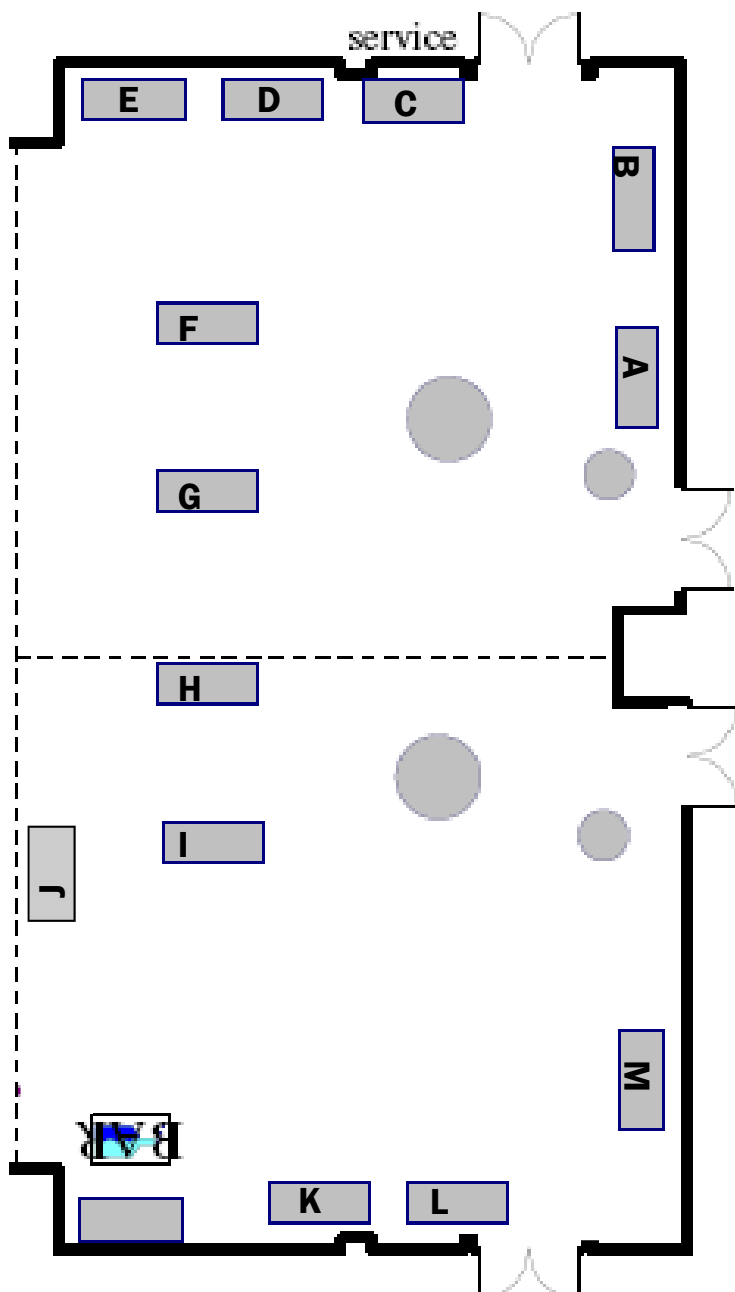

Dates for services, trips, private dinners, etc. are to be arranged between the purchaser and the auction donor. They buyer is responsible for initiating contact with the donor to arrange mutually agreeable times. All auction items and services are valid for one year from date of event, unless otherwise stated. Gift certificates are not redeemable for cash.

Successful bidders are advised that all activities, services and products are not sponsored by CSA. CSA accepts no liability or responsibility for any activity, services, or products purchased at the auction, including, but not limited to, failure to deliver, failure of performance, and/or claims of personal injury or property damage.

Unless otherwise specified, successful bidder understands that transportation to and from donated properties is not included. Smoking may not be permitted and pets may not be allowed, check specific conditions, limitations, or other essential information before placing a bid if it would impact your ability to fully enjoy an accommodation. Bidder is responsible for any toll and long distance telephone calls; bidder is also responsible for cleanup (leaving accommodations in same condition as found).

Payments must be made in full by the close of the event. Checks, Visa, or MasterCard are accepted in the auction cashier area. After receipt of full payment, items will be delivered to your table during the course of the evening.
